Welcome to our new Further Education catalogue of new and bestselling titles

We have recently published Great FE Teaching by Samantha Jones, a core new title for SAGE’s growing FE list. It has a collection of chapters covering different areas of FE Teaching from digital practices in prison education to study skills for vocational learners, offering a unique insight into the best of classroom practice.

Alongside this exciting addition to our FE programme, we have new books in early years including titles on neurodiversity, health and social care, criminology, counselling and academic skills, selected to be suitable for learners of both FE & HE settings. You’ll also find some SAGE bestsellers included in the list which are available through library suppliers in both print or eBook formats. Our eBook packages are available to FE colleges, and details can be found on the SAGE page of the Browns Books website.
