STATE ASSESSMENT SAMPLES MATCHED TO LESSONS

It's interesting and informative to see how different states test students for mastery of English/language arts conventions and usage and how their past assessments correspond to the lessons in Grammar Keepers. Take a look at the examples below from some released test items that can be viewed online.

In addition to this small sample, there are more excellent resources available on many state education websites. For example, by visiting the released test materials from Connecticut’s Academic Performance Test,* it’s easy to see how the questions and answer choices relate directly to several GK lessons, such as the use of silent E or subject-verb agreement.

The correlations between the Grammar Keepers lessons and some of the new upcoming assessments can also be made easily. Both Partnership for Assessment of Readiness for College and Careers (PARCC) and Smarter Balanced Assessment Consortium (SBAC) have recently released online sample items and performance tasks for English language arts (ELA)/Literacy as a preview for their assessments being used by many states in the spring of 2014–15.

Clearly, Grammar Keepers is an invaluable and up-to-date teaching resource for all ELA teachers and students.
